DOCTORED BUTTER.

WHAT A FARMER HAS TO SAY ABOUT IT.

Admissions Made by the Owners of Creameries at the Interstate Convention at Jackson.

To the Editors of the Appeal:

DYERRUBO, DYER COUNTY, TENN., March 2.—The convention at Jackson, Tenn., has been duly written up by the different newspapers of the coun-try, but as one of the most important affairs connected with this convention has been dwelt upon but lightly I de-sire to add a few lines upon this sub-ject, that is, the adulteration of food products. It goes without saying that the adulteration of articles of food and drink is assuming such proportions that it is high time that the country was aroused, and fully aroused, upon a subject that is of such vital importance to the people of this country from a standpoint of health as well as of principle. A man who buys adulterated food, believing it to be otherwise, is a victim of the man who makes or sells such food, and the man who makes or sells such food, and the man who makes such food, or sells the same, does gross injustice to his own conscience, and practices a fraud upon the palate and stomach of his victim of misplaced confidence. He deceives the public, brings dishonor upon his own name and obtains money by a streets, system of counterfeiting that is not yet condemned by the laws of the land. More than one-third of the time of the convention was taken up by the discussion of

and the creamery interests of the country, and I now come to the main subject of this article, the adulteration of butter and the counterfeiting of this great staple, which is one of the sprincipal articles of diet to be found upon the table of every one, from the millionaire in his purple and fine linen to the humble homespun of his native heath. This subject received a passing notice at the convention in the shape of a resolution, offered by Col. McClintock of Illinois, substantially as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the people of this country petition their representatives in Congress to use their best endeavors to stamp out the manufacture of oleomargarine."

Now, this is not the fair nor the leyow, this is not the fair nor the le-gitimate manner to get at this thing, nor will it ever be done in just this way. This move is instigated by the manufacturers of creamery butter, and was a selfish move that will in the end reflect upon the fairness as well as the interest of the creamery men. Now, if the creamery men are in earnest, and desire to prevent

as they pretend to do, let them begin at home, and first sweep their own front clean. There was not a manufacturer of creamery butter at this convention but what admitted that they used one or more foreign ingredients in their butter, and the only question in this connection is the diference in the amount of stuff that is used by the oleomarvin process or in the oleomargarine process, and I conto brand it. Here, now, is a fight be-tween two large industries of the country, both making butter with forcause the latter used the most stuffing in their produce. It is an old adage that when thieves fall out honest men get their dues, and in the coming struggle between these parties the country may, in the end, get a free ballot and a fair count on the honesty and purity of

THE BUTTER QUESTION. I say now, that no petition will ever go up from my county to squelch one interest of the country for the special advantage and interest of a rival concern which is scarcely more decent and respectable than the other. Let both the oleomarvin and oleomargarine go before the country on their own merits, and stamp their produce as adulterated, and then people may pay their money, take their choice, and know just what they are buying. This is no reason why the manufacturers should pander to a vitlated taste that they alone created Now, I will allude to a feature of this convention that was certainly unfair, and will be condemned by every fair-minded person. After the convention so unanimously passed the resolution regarding ox butter, or bogus butter, the committee appointed to award premiums on the butter exhibit, went right along and ignored the fresh, sweet, pure butter of the farmers, and AWARDED ALL PREMIUMS TO THE DOC-TORED BUTTER of the manufacturers, and yet they call this a "farmers" convention. Mr. Gates instructed the committee to make a distinction between natural colored and artificially colored butter, and this instruction was ignored, and more than that, they gave Mr. Curtis of Wisconsin first premium on dairy butter when he told me and told the committee in my presence, that his but-ter was creamery and was so entered. Not only this, Mr. Curtis admitted to the whole convention that he used annatto and cotton-seed in the manufacture of his butter. Now, I charge upon this committee that they went beyond instructions and betrayed a sacred trust confided to them, and in so doing have compromised their selfrespect as fair-minded and conscienious men. This committee and their friends are sailing under false colors, which is a species of piracy to be condemned by all fair and candid people. I now desire to make the following challenge to any of the twelve or fifteen States, or all of them that participated in this convention. Thereby CHALLENGE any resident of any of the above States or an exhibit of butter, to take place n Memphis within thirty days from late, under the following restrictions: First—The exhibit to be not under en or more than twelve pounds. Second—It is to be hand made, ab-olutely pure, and uncolored by any oreign matter whatever. (What I nean by hand made is churned and corked by hand.)

Third—The exhibitor is to pay an entry fee of not less than $10, or as meh more as may be agreed upon; dis purse to go to prize winners, as llows: First premium shall be 75 per ent, of the entire purse, and second remium is to be the other 25 per cent. Fourth—The butter shall be made er March 1st, and the show to come ff before the 31st as may be agreed Fifth—The exhibitor shall be re-ired to make affidavit in Memphis, being.

as to absolute purity of his butter, and the same shall be subject to as rigid test, in any way, as committee may Sixth—That the editor of the Arpran shall select (or cause to be selected) five grocery merchants of Memphis, who have never been identified with any creamery, or who do not sell or handle any bogus butter,

the five so selected to act as judges,
and award premiums. The hand made part of this need not apply to any creamery that may wish to exhibit pure butter. Now, if any person wishes to show who has the finest butter cow, and can exhibit butter on its own merits, let him come forward. its own merits, let him come forward.

TELEPHONE TROUBLE.

Reduce the Price or Give Up the Streets,

HANNIBAL, Mo., March 2.—The city council last night repealed the ordi-nance granting the Missouri and Kansas Telephone Company the franchise to use its streets and alleys, over which to run its wires. A contract is in existence which says the company should charge only $3 per month for each instrument when the number of subscribers reached 100. Notwith-standing this the company had been charging 14. The city council made the demand several weeks ago that the rate be reduced to the contract price. This the company flatly re-fused to do, and the council last night repealed the ordinance granting the company the privilege of using its

The Telephone a Necessity.

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—The Su-preme Court of this State rendered an opinion yesterday in the case of the Julia Building Association against the Bell Telephone Company. The case came before the Supreme Court on an appeal from the judgment of the St. Louis Court of Appeals. The Bell Telephone Company in crecting poles on Sixth street coversity a day reads on Sixth street, opposite a dry goods store owned by plaintiff, cut through the stone pavement and removed a portion of the masonry that forms the wall of the cellar of the building. This the Julia Building Association claimed would result in great injury. The opinion, which is very lengthy, is to the effect that telephone poles are a necessity, and when a company se cures from the State and city the right to erect them citizens owning property adjacent to the street cannot prevent it.

Will Quit Business in Indiana, Сикадо, I.L., March 2.—The Central Union Telephone Company to-day issued the following:

To our patrons in Indiana; This company announces with regret that in view of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of Indiana sus-taining the validity of the law regulat-ing telephone rentals and toll line charges, it has voted to decline all new business in the larger cities, where it is impossible to furnish services under the law without loss; to forthwith give notice of the termination at the earliest possible date of the contracts of all subscribers in such places; to make the continuance of exchange business in smaller places dependent upon the possibility of continuing under the law without loss, and to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. This conclusion has been reached after a careful and thorough revision of the estimates which were submitted tend that the country lad or lass that brings butter to your door colored with the yolk of eggs is just as honest as the large manufacturer who sells artificially-colored butter and refuses and upon which the ouths of its officers impending litigation. of its officers impending litigation were based, showing that the company could not profitably carry on its busieign matter in it, and one desiring Congress to stamp out the other, bevise some plan by which all of its ex-changes and toll lines could be continued, but to no purpose. In conclusion, the company desires to express to all of its subscribers its thanks for their patronage, and especially to the majority, who have felt, in common with its officers, the inexpediency and injustice of the law.

> MORMONS IN NORTH ALABAMA. What the Elders Are Doing Among the People.

ATLANTA, GA., March 2.—The Con stitution publishes to-day an investiga-tion of a representative in North Alabama in regard to the work of Mormons in that section. Several elders have been zealously engaged in the work for the past six months, and is the only fair and honest basis, and the fact that there had been made a country people. The farmers in the market and demand for this produce | Choctto and Shinbone Valley, in Clay county, have notified them that they must leave, and threaten to use force. The elders refuse to go, saying they are engaged in legitimate work, and will be protected by the government. A number of women and some men have gone to Utah.

The Broadway Franchise Scandal New York, March 2.—The grand jury of the Court of General Sessions, which was sworn into office yesterday. was charged to-day by Judge Gilder-sleeve. After defining the duties he said that they should not find an indictment unless the circumstances warranted it. He referred to the alleged corruption in the securing and granting of the franchise under which the Broadway Surface Railroad is now operated, and said: "So much has been written, and so much said, so full is the air of rumors and accusa-tions, in respect to the franchise in question, that it is manifestly the duty of the law charged with the investiga-tion and punishment of crime within this county, to probe this scandal to its lowest depths and uncover to the light and to the operation of law and justice every act. Lite in the Paris Sewers Is possible, for a short time to the robust, but the majority of refined per-sons would prefer immediate death to existence in their reeking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a living sewer. But this is actually the case with those in whom the inactivity of the liver drives the refuse matter of the body to escape through the lungs, breath, the pores, kidneys and bladder. It is astonish-ing that life remains in such a dwell-ing. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" restores normal purity to the system and renews the whole

JONES AT CHICAGO.

A SENSATION AT THE REVIVAL. IST'S MEETING.

Protests Against the Reverend Gentleman's Free and Easy Methods.

Chicago, March 2.—In his sermon at the First Baptist Church yesterday the Rev. Sam Jones said: "What a a privilege it is to pray. Now, I want all those who got down on their knees and prayed before they came to this meeting to rise in their seats," About twenty persons arose in the auditorium.

The evangelist leaned against the pulpit and seemed to gasp for breath.
"You may be seated now," he said.
"Why, brethren, I could find more prayerful Christians in Hong Kong, China, than there are in this meeting to-day. If you can't pray I want you to take your carcasses out of here. I don't want you to come here if you can't pray."

An aged man sitting on one of the front pews leaped to his feet, and in a faltering voice said: "Mr. Jones, I don't think it is necessary for a person to get down on their knees to pray. I consider myself a good Christian and I don't like to hear such talk."

"I was about to say the same thing," exclaimed the Rev. Mr. Scudder of Plymouth church. "I prayed while on my way to church. God does not lemand that a man shall get down on his knees before his prayers are

"Any more exculpatory remarks?" growled the evangelist.
Dr. Scudder—They are not exculpatory remarks. A man with an ear trumpet arose and punctuated his remarks with vigorous pounding on the rostrum. "Pr. Jones," he began, "I did not have time to get down on my knees and pray for this meeting. I have spent nearly the entire day reading the Bible to a gambler and a drunkard, and I think I am entitled to respect here." Othermen and several women began to stand up in various sections of the church, but a few explanatory remarks served to still the tempest, and the revivalist was permitted to finish his sermon without further interruption. In conclusion, he said: "Let us take the lesson in the text to our homes and get some good out of it."

ABOUT WOMEN.

MRS. ELLA OFFUTT KEAN is stopping at the Riggs Washington, with Ken-tucky friends She sthe Lady Joaquin Miller pronounced the most beautiful person he had ever seen in any clime. She is tail and stylish and bright and agreeable in manner. Her eyes are dark brown and her hair a golden Her complexion is a clear cream and her features are classic and slightly aquiline.

SENATOR SHERMAN and his wife are entertaining a great deal this winter in consequence of the Vice-Presidential torors that fell to him, and in addition to a long series of Monday evening receptions they are giving ir-numerable dinners. Judge David Davis revived the old custom of the Vice-President dining all the members of the Senate upon his entry into the office, and Mr. Hendricks planned noble ho pitalities for his winters in the chair.

MRS. JAMES BROWN POTTER, the ambitious amateur actress, is not yet twenty-four years old, and still has time enough to win a name for herself on the professional boards if chooses. She has some ability, but owes most of her celebrity to her social position, a pretty face and per-sistentcy in her work. She has been so constantly before the public for the past few years that the public has been led to think she must be unusually endowed with histricaic talent. She is the best advertised woman in society.

Says the New York World: "It is one those strange inconsistencies for which no one can account that while the men of New York are universally courteous and polite in public, the w man are rude and selfish, conducting the meelves with an aggressiveness d boldness that is simply astoundrig. A policeman on the corner of being asked if he was placed there to keep the horses from running over the women exclaimed: 'Indade no; sure I'm kept here to prevent the women from runnin' over the horses.' He spoke wiser than he knew, perhaps, of the manners of New York women."

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX, suthor of Poems of Passion, and a recent novel, is described as a very pretty woman. What first struck the publishers was her business promptness. When she was dependent upon her pen for a liv-ing her note was considered as good as any man's. Once she borrowed money at a bank for ninety days. When she paid it the banker refused to charge interest. She insisted upon paying it, saying she could not accept a favor. She desired to feel that she had paid the highest market price for the loan, as she might want to borrow again. It was the same way about furnishing copy. She always had her work done on time. All this gave her standing, and she is to-day one of the most popular literary women in New York.

Mrs. John Sherwood, who has quite a local reputation in New York rs a writer, is another woman who has made an easy step from the top round of the social ladder into a good pos tion in the literary world. Some years ago she was willing to sell her manuscript for what it would bring, but by keeping berself well in the public eye as a woman of letters and a woman of society, she is now able to set a price of $250 a week upon her time, and makes the editors pay her accordingly. She is a very clever woman, and de serves great credit for her untiring industry. She is a student and a traveler, and one of the most entertaining conversationalists in New York society.

MAUD MILLER, Josquin Miller's daughter, about whom so much has been written and said of late, is a very insignificant looking person, with nothing about her to distinguish her from fifty other commonplace women except a pretty, doll-like face. She is t of figure and a little below the medium hight, with something of the simpering, kittensh, school-girl manperism in all of her motions and ges-tures. Her face is fair and pretty, but expressionless, and she has a lovely head of fine, toft, blonde hair, which she wears plainly coiled, without crimp or curi. Her hands and feet are small and shapely, and she is quite a pleasant picture to look upon, but she is not brill ant.

The First Sign

Of falling health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, cariching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am new as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded. — W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D. Greenville, Tenn. M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springlield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered. — H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyu, N. Y.
